

Judgment Falls On the Nations 11-15-25 to 11-17-25

Sweden, you are vile! You have become defiled in your stench. The stench of your sins. I shall divide you, and send Putin's allies through your land. Woe has come. Destruction comes to you, O' land of the Swedes no longer. Judgment has come to your door this night. You too have failed to measure up to My holy plummet line. Destruction comes. You are weighed in the balances. Let's see how prideful you are when you fall beneath the weight of oppressive captivity, and servitude, for you will be called into war. A war you are insufficiently prepared for.

Belgium, Belgium I see the wrong doings of your leaders in the shadows. Your secret dealings with the fallen ones to promote growth in your economy, and to try to obtain surplus for your nation, because all leaders know already, war has come to the world. Judgment comes to your door too.

Australia, the land of the Aborigines from the past. Your idol worship of false gods and spirits of the Earth, guiding spirits, which are nothing more than demons, has already had your land under multiple curses called forth by My hands, including rodents. Yet you are stiffnecked and unable to bend your knee to your holy God and Creator, which you voluntarily do to the fallen ones. Now you will see My anger upon you, as I send destruction to your land and plague it. Will you cry out to Me then? No, no, you will not! Prepare O' Australia, for I shall cause a division in your land in more ways than one.

I send waves of destruction to the Netherlands, a land filled with the fallen ones of days gone by, yet current as well. I see your evil doings, you have not went unseen to Me. Prepare to meet your holy God as a man, instead of a coward, who loves the ways of the fallen ones, and not his Creator. Now is the time I begin lifting the waters high, as My magnetic black rock becomes fully depleted of its magnetism, causing so much chaos, even before it erupts, exploding into unrepairable and un-retrievable pieces in the raging whirlpool waters raging around it. This time has come.

Rough waters, rough waters ahead for England, who seeks for a puppet monarchy to still hold some control and positions of prestige in a world run by the fallen angels that fell into sin. Now with lucifer at the head, they lead the whole world astray. Those who do not call Me, Jesus Christ, their Lord and Savior.

Technology has become a strange god to the world, without natural affections that manipulate others by key phrases, beautiful faces of falsities that are inhabited by evil spirits. This O' world is your latest god among the countless list of gods you have created to serve and worship.

You have become creators of technology, of science, of carpentry, of mechanics yet you worship what your own hands have created. Should a creator worship what he has created? Man creates, the fallen angels create and now their robots self-replicate in the tiniest of forms. Yet every single thing you boastfully shout as being creator of, would not be possible if you had not first begun with what you were making with what I, the Righteous Creator of all things good and bad, had created first.

I created man, I created men like Pharaoh, Nebuchadnezzar, and Cyrus of old to do My biddings. I created each so My Word could be fulfilled. Two were raised up and fulfilled My Word, yet did evil. One named Cyrus was raised up, though not a good man, was used for good in the releasing of the Jewish people to return to the land after the 70 year exile at the hand of Nebuchadnezzar. As Jeremiah had prophesied in My Name, the Name of My Father, that came to be.

Somalia, those smaller than some, than most, your sins are great, greater than most in the region you're located in. I shall shake you greatly in My fierce anger, and uncover to the world some of your evil doings. Did I not say I see all, and all that's said would be brought to light? Did I not say in My Word, I judge all men equally, without respect for one above the other? I did. I shall shake your land until your land reveals the bones, the bones of your atrocities thought hidden.

France, land of romance and love, it has been said about your land in times past. It's not so much anymore, as the man of sin sits in a position of authority over this ungodly, unholy land of people. When evil is in a position of rule, the land will endure turmoil. The people will be discomfited without any real peace. Your land is not the land of love, but of lust! Full-blown lust of the flesh where self-indulgences are not held in check by any sense of morality, for all but a few. I see your doings. I hear your words of filth and degradation. I see your doings beneath the ground's soil. Your atrocities are great, your sins are many. I say, your atrocities are great O' inhabitants, people are France, but My love and forgiveness are greater. Repent! Repent of your sins and accept Me into your hearts as your Lord and go. Go and sin no more, lest something greater and eviler come upon you.

Judgment begins at My own house first. The evidence of this is already open and seeable to your world's eyes of the hidden things being exposed, by those who profess to be one of Mine, while living a life of uncleanness and double standards of self-professed holiness and righteousness. Be a doer of the Word, and not a hearer only. Judgment's hand is already seen across your world, as I have begun cleaning of My own house first, as it is found written in My Holy Word.

Mexico, the land south of the border of the fallen eagle, America, the land no longer free, called Babylon to Me. You shall rise up with other forces and breach the walls of the eagle with combined military might. Have I not called you to unite in this purpose against Babylon-America? Deep inside the heart of Mexico's land are fortresses of power of ancient days of the past that belong to the fallen ones. These sites are not empty, but full of activity from the evil ones and their doing. Your loyalty to them has not gone unnoticed. I will deal with you Myself when I return.

I am the Righteous Judge of all! All judgment for men, for the Heaven and Earth, of this created firmament is placed in My hands. I had judged all! Now I've come to administer My holy judgments upon your world by My Father's command. This O' world is where you are now at.

Weep, wail & repent, for destruction and desolation is your lot O' world. Wail and repent, and do it now, while you still can, because when I come for My beloved bride, judgments' pronounced shall be judgments that are brought to fruition.

Is it not so?

Is it not so?

Yes, yes it is so!

"Jesus Christ, I'm here my love I'm here. I heard You call out to me to come. I'm here my love, I'm here." "Daughter, I wish to speak to you again of judgments that have been called forth, and the time has come for them to come to fruition upon your world."

I speak to the land of Canada. Your ways have not gone unnoticed, both good and bad. In each nation there are those who are Mine, but daughter, when judgments fall, it rains on the just and the unjust. So, some of Mine, if left behind, shall endure some of what I speak of. For this judgment I speak of is to transpire after I return for My bride.

Canada, you shall burn by fire. You shall be betrayed from those you have kept hidden in your nation, and in facilities below the Earth's surface in preparation of the convergence of invading forces on America-Babylon. These forces are those of the king of the East led by the evil hearted Xi Jinping. As I have shown you by dreams, daughter, the Chinese soldiers shall enter your nation's land through tunnel ways and hidden entrances. But woe to you Canada, because you shall be betrayed by the Chinese Communist party, the CCP, and in the end you shall align yourself with the eagle.

I have spoken, it shall be! They shall burn your lands from sea to sea. Woe has come, Canada. I say to the people inside your nation's walls, its borders, repent and repent now. Those My Holy Spirit is calling out to you, delay no longer, or some I say, I see, this is your last warning before death finds you.
