

Antichrist And It's A Small World Dream 5-12-25 @ 6:55AM

“Jesus Christ, I’m here. I dreamed about Antichrist again, and I had the dream repeatedly throughout the night. I prayed, then tried and tested it, and it’s proved from You. I remember seeing him, the Man of Sin, dressed in a formal black attire, as if dressed for a ceremony. It’s a tuxedo, a black, slim-fitting tuxedo. His shirt was white, his tie is black, and the kerchief above his blackened heart was pristine white. His shoes were shiny black, with black stiff shoe strings tied in uniform bows. He’s standing with his hands as if adjusting the buttons on the tuxedo’s jacket. Where he’s at I can’t currently see because it’s like everything is blurred out around him. So my full focus is on him. He places his hands into his pants pocket, as if waiting for something or someone. He’s outside, I now can see more. He’s standing in front of a building that has steps heading up the front entrance (there’s two sets of steps; he’s on one of them). On the front entrance, he looks around, reaches up, and straightens his already perfectly placed black tie that he’s wearing and then he begins whistling a tune I recognize from days gone by. It’s the song, “It’s a Small World After All”.

He continues to whistle it there on top of the steps until he pulls his left hand out of his pocket, and he looks at the watch-type device on his wrist. It projects a little 3D holographic screen in the air with a time displayed backwards to my right to my sight. To me it shows 1:07. “Excellent,” he finally speaks to himself. The screen disappears and he places his hands back into the pocket of his pants. He looks around one more time; then he said, “It’s going to be a hot time in the city tonight.” Then he smiled an evil, wicked grin and began whistling the tune once again of “It’s a Small World After All” as he began descending down the steps made of granite. Behind him, I now see is a mansion-type building. Very grand, but old-looking. It could be a manor home, a university, a research center, or such like. It’s very large and grand. I know, somehow, it’s in France. It’s not dark outside, because I could see the details and the sky still is showing its light. My eyes refocus on Emmanuel Macron, French President who is the Antichrist, the Man of Sin. I can tell he’s pleased about something. He begins whistling louder the same tune, “It’s a Small World After All”. Then he begins laughing like a wicked hyena. I wake up hearing his laughter, never seeing what was at the end of the granite steps he had been descending.

Each time I awoke, I had the sense he’s attending some type of gathering, possibly a world event. And by his attire, there would be a need for formal attire, unless he’s dressed this way for another underground hidden secret meeting. “Lord Jesus Christ, I had this dream repeatedly over and over last night. The mother cat kept jumping on my bed repeatedly, almost every hour, if not every hour, which is not something she has ever done. Each time I would wake up, pray about this dream, and whether to return to sleep. Each time You told me to lay back down. This began right after midnight, around 12:38AM. It’s been the same dream over and over. What does it mean?” “Daughter, seek out the answers I have given you inside the dream. Ask, and you shall receive My Word says.” “Yes it does, my Lovely Jesus Christ, and I shall do it as You say. So, do I share this dream? Alex has already prayed about it and discerned also it’s from You.” “Yes, Daughter, it is to be shared, for inside it are answers that many of My children are seeking of things to come.” “I will do it, my Lord Jesus Christ.” “I know you will, Daughter. I know you will.” Again, pray about it. Try, test, discern it. We’re supposed to prove all things. 1st Thessalonians 5:21 says, “Prove all things; hold fast to that which is good.” Prove all things. What does that mean? Prove it, try it, test it; make sure it’s good. Make sure it’s from Father God or Jesus Christ, or not. 1st John 4:1, “Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they be of God. For many false prophets have gone out into the world.” When you study that out, that warning is for false anything. Go to the Greek, Hebrew word, that would be the Greek. Go to the Greek, do the study. Take out your Strong’s Concordance or go to somewhere like Bible Hub, blueletterbible.org; study out these words. And then start pulling the Scriptures. When you pull from other places, you’re going to find out false apostles, false teachers, confirming that plus the Greek meaning. so you understand what’s being said and not listening to just some man made doctrine or twisted fallen angel doctrine, or the human agents, the witches and all them that get close to you and into your church as your buddy buddy best friend or the holier-than thou, the one that shouts the most, the one that’s in the deliverance camp, or whatever. And they’re not. Discern and try and test.
