

Off With Leviathan-Babylon's Head Dream 10-27-25@ 2:19 AM Shared 10-28-25

You're instructed to try, test, and discern this as 1 Thessalonians 5:21 & 1 John 4:1 tells you.

I dreamed I was in the sky observing something moving in ocean waters somewhere. I cannot see it fully, but it appears to be large and long. It's swimming below the water surface. The sun is shining and the water glistens from where the sun's rays are hitting it. I looked around from where I'm hovering in the sky and the water stretches as far as I could see. I didn't seem surprised in the dream to find myself in the middle of the air above the ocean. Which ocean it is, I currently don't know. I looked away for a moment and then turned my eyes back to where the large shadowy presence had been under the water a few minutes earlier. "It's gone," I exclaimed in surprise! Whatever it is, it's moving very fast. "Where is it?" I asked out loud. Then to my left I heard what sounded like something breaking through the water's surface. I turned to where the sound had come from and gasped out loud. There before me coming out of the ocean's water are two giant heads that could be either that of a huge snake or a dragon. The two heads are very large and similar but not identical in their looks. Its skin is varying colors of dark gray and there appears to be what looks like on the back side of its heads, scales so close together it would be hard to get an open safety pin's tip in between it. Each scale looked like it could possibly be fused together one to the other. Then I noticed their eyes looked like they were lit up with an inner light of some kind. "Jesus Christ, what is this?" I asked in awe but also slightly afraid of this fierce two-headed massive serpent-like dragon. "Do not fear," I heard a voice say to me on the right.

I turned my head to see a red-haired angel beside me in the air. Only he had magnificent wings where I had none. "You're a holy angel of God," I said, surprised to see him as well as a giant two-headed creature, the beast in the water below us. The holy angel smiled, his dark blue eyes showed kindness but also a seriousness within them. He said quickly, "Daughter of faith, of Heaven's Court, this is not the first time you have seen one of the hosts of Heaven before. Why should it surprise you now," he asked? I replied before thinking, "I don't know, maybe it's because I've just seen a two-headed dragon-serpent kind of looking creature out of the waters that I've never seen before or even knew was living inside these waters. Wherever these waters are," I finished saying. "Yet here he is and here am I," the red-headed angel replied. Then he pointed to the creature in the ocean. "This is leviathan who lives in the deep. The marine kingdom through witchcraft and technology at times will manipulate his activities to do their evil bidding. This is not the spirit being of leviathan but the physical one, yet leviathan can come in different forms and shapes in the world of man. Suddenly, I noticed black smoke coming from one of the heads of the two-headed leviathan and he opened his mouth to show many long sharp teeth. Then leviathan looked around with both his heads and then sank back into the waters of the ocean. I couldn't help but gape at the sight. "Where'd he go," I asked? "That is not important," the angel God said. "Please follow me. I am to show you a leviathan of another kind." "Oh," I said thoughtfully, wondering what more could I see. As I turned fully to follow the holy angels, I realized I had no wings. How can I fly? It was only then that I realized although unseen, there was another holy angel of God who had been holding me in the air. I can see him now. It's Morneesha, my guardian angel, who's never very far away, my friend. Before I could say another word, Mrneesha and I took off flying in the direction of the now flying red-headed angel and the scene changed

Morneesha, the red-haired angel, and I are now above the United States. It looks basically like a topographical 3D map with the names of the states displayed in black writing. I can see the neighboring waters and lands all around America in every direction, except for the north where Canada joins the United States, meaning those separated by water, but Canada joins it. Suddenly, I see a shadow in the water again, much like before. Once again, I see the two heads of leviathan rise out of the water. "What's he doing?" I asked the two holy angels of God. The red-haired one replied patiently, "Daughter of Heaven's Court, watch and see." "Okay," I said quickly and fixed my eyes upon the two heads of leviathan. Suddenly, he begins rising further out of the water. It's like he's slithering, but walking too. He leaves what looks like an oily residue behind him in the waters. I notice leviathan is coming to the shoreline of the east coast of the United States. "What's he doing?" I asked again excitedly as he made his way to the shore near Virginia. The red-haired holy angel said, "This leviathan you will find is the same but different." "What do you mean," I asked him? "Daughter of Zion and of Heaven's Court, this leviathan represents the reach of lucifer's power in the world of man, his network that extends from America-Babylon, to across the whole world. These systems of the whole world are connected through the leviathan. This leviathan beast fills the whole world at times through the great labyrinth of networks of underground and underwater tunnels, the computer networks, the hidden locations. Yet, man does not comprehend that he is being controlled by the kingdom of darkness through this vast network king named leviathan."

As I listened, I watched as a two-headed dragon serpent made his way onto the land. He has two larger hand-like feet that are smaller than the two ones behind them. So, he can either walk or slither using his very massive snake-like dragon tail and body. I watched as he crawled all around from place to place, state to state, and then finally stopped on the state of New York, where here he curled himself up partway and then laid as if at home and resting. "Why did he stop in New York," I asked? "Because, daughter of Zion, of Heaven's Court," the red-haired angel replied, "New York has become his home. This is the head location where lucifer's marine kingdom runs the world operations from. The money, the deals, the power play of your world and nation mostly runs through New York. Many believe it is the evil state of California where lucifer's head of operations is located in the world of man, but it is not. It's New York City," the red-haired angel finished saying. Morneesha spoke up and said, "The leviathan network that you see here is the seat of power of lucifer's above the earth in the world of man. Because of this, your nation has become diseased and corrupt. This is different than those of the council 13. The leviathan you see here represents lucifer's control on your nation and world and would be considered the heart of your nation. Although it's evil, it pumps life into your nation, its economy and either other locations in your world," he finished saying. "I understand," I replied. "Why am I seeing this? Is this somehow connected to the 10 hidden suitcases that begin detonating inside New York and other places that weaken America, that causes her to fall to never be in a position of power again? If so, how do you get rid of something that big? How do you kill leviathan when his scales, according to Job 41, makes him impenetrable and he's unstoppable? No one can destroy him," I finished saying, as I watched the leviathan coil his long tail around the state of New York even tighter. "How do you destroy something like that?" The rehaired angel replied with a smile. “Why don't you watch and see?” “What,” I said in surprise! “Watch where,” I asked?

Suddenly there was a flash in the sky and all of us looked toward that direction. I saw a figure dressed in white, shining as bright as the sun descend from the heavens. In one hand extending outward was a flaming sword. It had blue flames. He had a flaming sword that seemed to shoot out little sparks of electricity and lightning bolts. The Man's hair is white as snow and His eyes are like holy fire. His skin was the appearance of light brass. I heard Him say in a voice of power and authority that thundered, “LEVIATHAN, YOU DIE TONIGHT! Lucifer, I take the head off of leviathan and before your night of mischief has fully begun, leviathan, your network in Babylon will be dead.” The two-headed leviathan raised its head as if only now noticing the shiny, radiant, holy Figure of justice with His flaming Sword of Truth. But it was too late! Before he could respond, Jesus Christ, my love, grabbed the sword now with both hands while still descending and swung it with deadly precision and accuracy. Leviathan's two heads went rolling in opposite directions. The dragon-like serpent's body began to move and jerk around for a few moments and then suddenly became still. Its lifeless body is now unmoving. “Justice is served,” I heard my lovely Jesus Christ say, as the two heads of leviathan erupted into two separate mushroom clouds. As I continue to watch, I begin to see more mushroom clouds appearing over the United States. I begin counting them all. There are 10 all together.

I watched as my lovely Jesus Christ, with the flaming sword still in His hands, cries out to the heavens, “Father, it is done! The head of Babylon, the leviathan system of lucifer's kingdom, has been beheaded and is destroyed. Babylon will never fully recover, nor will lucifer or his kingdom be able to utilize anymore the technology, networks, and strongholds he has created inside of Babylon's walls, giving those of Mine still here after I return for My bride an increased chance of survival until the end. It shall limit and prohibit the kingdom of darkness in many ways, while also at the same time aiding the man of sin's final few steps to power, as he now implements his control from elsewhere, for Babylon shall perish in the end results. I heard a voice from Heaven reply, “Well done My Son.” All I could say was, “Wow.” The red-haired holy angel spoke to me and asked, “Was it not worth watching?” “Seeing my lovely Jesus Christ in holy action, Oh yes, oh yes indeed,” was all I could reply, and then I awoke.

Take this to Jesus Christ in prayer. My understanding, Holy Spirit lead me in what I can say. My understanding is all the network and all these things that were creating the beast system in America will be removed and antichrist will utilize his system from other locations now. He's being forced to, and that's where things like Rome, the Vatican, all these things, and he's establishing his kingdom, and in Jerusalem where all these things will be utilized.

Take it to Jesus Christ in prayer.
